GEO. SCHWARTZ, the young man who cut Harry Wessling in the neck while in a row at Hibernia Hall last Friday morning, at a hearing before Judge Lindeman this morning was bound over to the Grand Jury in the sum of $500.

That bill for election expenses, after being cut down $80, passed the Board of Aldermen this morning. There is still a chance for the Councilmen to immortalize themselves by taking off another slice from it. As it now stands it amounts to $5,055.

The Aldermen a part of them at least, propose that the city buy the Millbrook bridge, at the foot of Eighth street, from the Exposition Commission, as she has no money to build a new one. An ordinance to appropriate $1,000 for that purpose is being seriously considered.

In the meeting of the Board of Aldermen yesterday a resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted, to the effect that the Council Committee on Legislation and the City Solicitor and Auditor wait upon the Legislature of the State of Ohio of a bill to authorize the city authorities to levy a tax or issue bonds to pay the city laborers the amount now due them, and for which no appropriations were made before the work was done.

GOTLIB TRESHER, of 553 Vine street, is a real estate agent and auctioneer. Dr. Otteveiter, a veterinary surgeon and the keeper of a confectionery at 556 Vine, on the 16th of last September, desisted of closing up his candy business, employed Tresher to sell out his stock and fixtures. This he was to do for 8 per cent. commission, expecting the stuff would sell for $100. It, however, brought $40. Tresher received the money, and charged the doctor one-half, or $20. This the doctor considered an excessive charge, but offered to allow him ten. Tresher would not agree to such a settlement, but kept the whole amount. Now the doctor sues the real estate man for embezzlement. At a hearing of the case this morning in the Police Court Judge Lindeman continued it until Nov. 2.

Popular Lectures.

A course of popular lectures is to be given by the Cincinnati College this winter at low rates and by the best of lecturers. They will be given through the "lectureships" arranged for by the directors some years ago, and are thus within reach of all. Course tickets (six lectures) will be sold for $1, and tickets for a single lecture for twenty-five cents. They will be sold by Robert Burke & Co.

One of the lectureships is on Christian Philosophy, and will be filled this winter by Rev. James McCosh, LL.D., D.D., President of the College of New Jersey, at Princeton, New Jersey. His subject will be "The Powers of the Human Mind."

The other lectureship is on Christian Jurisprudence, and will be filled by M. B. Anderson, D.D., President of the Rochester University, at Rochester, New York. His subject and the time of his lectures will be announced hereafter.

The lectures will be given in the hall of the Cincinnati College, on Walnut street, between Fourth and Fifth streets.

The man who wrote the following conundrum ought to be put on the dry dock: Q. If President Grant wanted to know what business it would be good to embark in, what advice ought an honest friend to give him? A. Ship Chandler.

Amusements.

WOOD'S THEATER.—Mr. Raymond of course drew a large audience last evening. "Colonel Sellers," as long as it is in Mr. Raymond's hands, will, like "Hip Van Winkle," always be popular, and if other than a large audience should greet its representation it would be more to the hurt of the reputation of Cincinnati as a city of aesthetic culture than to Mr. Raymond as an actor. Miss Cummings was fresh and conspicuous by her acting of last evening, and many of new admirers are now becoming anxious to see her in some more pretentious character where there will be greater scope for her evident talents.

Messrs. Soggs and Craven were fully up to their standard, and deserve especial mention for their excellent acting.

THE GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—The second representation of "Frou-Frou" was, if anything, an improvement upon the first, the "study" of many in the cast being nearer perfect than on Tuesday evening. Miss Davenport again electrified her audience by her rendition of the thrilling scenes in the fourth and last acts. Mr. Fiske was excellent in his portrayal of the eccentric Baron de Cambri, the rehearsal scene being especially good. Mr. Vance as the "Sunny Italian" was very good, considering the limits of the part. "Divorce," with Miss Davenport as "Fannie Ten Eyck," will be given to-night.

THE NATIONAL.—Everything passed off smoothly at this house last night, the variety performance and the play both being given as usual. C. T. Nichols as the "Detective" again to-night.

AT THE ZOO-ZOO.—The following is the programme for the concert at the Zoological Gardens to-day. It will be given by the Cincinnati Orchestra Band, Michael Brand Conductor:

Grand March—"Industrial"—Reissbrecht.
Overture—"Light Cavalry"—Suppe.
Waltz—"Life Let Us Cheer"—Strauss.
Selections—"Macbeth"—Verdi.
Overture—"Oberon"—Weber.
Selections—"La Fille de Mme. Angot"—Lecocq.
Les Trompettes du Regiment—"Ascher."
Festival March—"Tannhauser"—Wagner.
Pot-pourri, "Jewess"—Halvey.
Waltz—"The Merry Day in Berlin"—Gungl.
Selections—"Duchess"—Joffmarch.
Finale, "Froh und Heiter"—Faust.

Marital—Fashionable Weddings Last Night.

The Heidelberg mansion on West Fourth street, last evening, was the scene of a joyous and happy event in the unity of two of our wealthiest young people of Society, Charles Seasonood, Esq., was the fortunate groom and Miss Ida Heidelberg his beautiful bride. The wedding was a very select and private affair. Dr. Lillenthal performing the usual rites. The banquet which followed was as long to be remembered.

The Koppers, always grand and stylish in everything they undertake, prepared the board and it fairly groaned under the weight of every imaginable delicacy. It was a sumptuous and elegant affair.

Mr. Gus Mesch, who for some time has been connected with the extensive jewelry house of Duane & Co. of this city, was also married last evening to Miss Jennie Niehaus. The ceremony took place at St. Anthony's Church, after which the invited guests attended the happy couple to the residence of the bride, where a pleasant time was spent. Duane & Co.'s establishment was well represented at the wedding.

David L. Billigheimer, the popular young proprietor of the Atlantic Billiard Hall, was united in marriage yesterday to one of our most beautiful and talented young ladies, Miss Yetta Ezekieli, the daughter of our old citizen, Jacob Ezekieli. The ceremony took place at the Heidelberg mansion and was performed by Dr. Lillenthal.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the residence, No. 413 West Fourth street, where eighty couples sat down to one of the most elegant dinners that has been spread at a private reception in this city. At the banquet there were representatives of four generations, including the great-grandfather and great-grandmother on the Ezekieli side. The occasion was a joyous one that will long be remembered by all present.

European Notes by a Cincinnati Traveler.

Again we are permitted to give some extracts from a private letter from Mr. Elias Shank, a well-known Cincinnati, to a friend in this city. Mr. Shank has been spending some months in Europe, and in his terse, clear and graphic manner of writing gives some very interesting and instructive sketches of his tour, and, although not intended for the public, is so full of the worthy of a careful study by all. The present letter, written at Milan, Italy, on the 8th, says:

I arrived in this city last night, after a very fatiguing and long ride across the Alps in a diligence so far as St. Borne, then a steam down the beautiful lake of Maggiore to Arona and then the cars to Milan; and, so far, I am much pleased with the country, its climate, scenery and cities. After such a cold region as the Alps, with its snow-capped peaks and glaciers, down into beautiful and fruitful valleys, into Lake Maggiore, where we enjoyed a warm autumn climate, and from Baltimore and New York, since my last writing I have been through most of the principal towns and cities of Southern Germany and Switzerland, and thus far into Italy. I have been here only a day, and so far, feel highly pleased with the appearance of this city. It is full of art of every kind—picture galleries, monuments, churches, and of all the cultural that I have seen, the one here excels, in every particular, anything that is to be seen this side of Rome in the way of churches. To-morrow night we intend going to see the Grand Scala Theater, one of the largest in Europe. Our party of three, a young gentleman from Brooklyn, and myself, will leave here in a few days for Padua, Verona and Venice, and, southward, taking in Bologna, Florence, Leghorn, Ravenna, Vercina, Rome and Naples, and, perhaps, Sicily, and then back to Northern Germany, via Vienna, Prague, Berlin, Hanover, Metz, Strasbourg and Paris, where I will stop for a while and then turn back to England, to America, a land where I can get three square meals a day. In this country one can't get more than one good meal in a day, and hardly that. The long and short of the matter is: the people don't know how to live. They commence with a cup of coffee and some bread and so start off hungry, and keep hungry, and keep eating and drinking all day. It is the worst country in the world to get fat in. You see no fleshy people here, except occasionally one, who is an excellent beer drinker.

Our trip through Switzerland and across the Simplon Pass was very interesting, showing on the route the highest peaks and the most extensive glaciers and snow-capped mountains. We took in all of this interesting little Republic, with its towns, lakes and mountains. I expect to reach Paris about the 15th of November for a rest.

A Warning to Ghost-Story Tellers.

A terrible sequel to an hour's amusement telling ghost-stories occurred at the Burgin Institute last night. A room full of young ladies, patients of the Institute, amused and excited each other by stories of terrific apparitions, hobgoblins, ghosts, etc. The gas had been turned out, either intentionally or by accident. In the climax of a vivid story one of the girls threw a snuff box at a comrade. A little noise and strange conduct was noticed. When a light was brought the fact was revealed that the poor girl was insane. She has remained so ever since, yet hopes are entertained of her recovery.—Indianapolis Journal.

Wendell Phillips speaks of the Venetians using paper money. Doubtless O'hellio had just received his pay in that currency when he exclaimed: "He who steals my purse steals trash!"

ECONOMY.

Aside from their excellence there is economy in buying Dr. Price's Flavoring Extracts, as the bottles hold one-half more than others purporting to hold the same quantity. They are the most natural flavor made, and in strength, quality and quantity there are none like them. With Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and Dr. Price's Flavoring Extracts, you have all the ingredients of a good cake, palatable, enjoyable, digestible, and healthful. The cheap articles in this line are odious comparisons with Dr. Price's preparations, which in quality are fit for the highest use, and yet at a price within the reach of the poorest. Buy the powder only in cans securely labeled, not in bulk, as many have been deceived thereby.
